

Subject: Spring 2022 MBA Global Business Courses - Scholarships, Stipends, and Costs

Spring 2022

MBA GLOBAL BUSINESS COURSES

SCHOLARSHIPS, STIPENDS, AND COSTS

HAVANA, CUBA

Faculty: Dr. Kislaya Prasad

SANTIAGO, CHILE

Faculty: Dr. Bennet Zelner

LISBON, PORTUGAL

Faculty: Dr. Judy K. Frels

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN

Faculty: Dr. Cristian Dezso

REYKJAVIK, ICELAND

Faculty: Dr. David M. Waguespack

Scholarships

$1,000 Scholarship for first-time study abroad students

- Application required. Students should articulate the value of a study abroad experience to their MBA experience and career aspirations and identify the skills they intend to develop during the program.

*"First-time study abroad students" is defined as students who did not participate in a study abroad program during their undergraduate or previous graduate studies

Scholarship applications will open on October 27th. The application deadline is November 15th.

Stipends - Liaison Roles

$1,500 Stipend for the students selected to be OPERATIONS LIAISONS

- Build your resume with a student leadership position. Practice skills in logistics, planning, and management.
- Work with the faculty, program partners, and CGB on the organization and logistics of the program.
- Requirements: Strong communication skills, attention to detail, leadership and motivation, and organizational skills.

$1,500 Stipend for students selected to be the COMMUNICATION LIAISONS

- Build your resume with a student leadership position. Practice skills in marketing, communication, and writing.
- Work with faculty, peers, and CGB on communicating the value of the program, capturing the participant journey through a news story, social media, and student highlights.
- Requirements: Creativity, strong writing skills, an artistic eye, and a strong knowledge of the learning objectives of the program.

Stipend applications will open on October 27th. The best consideration deadline is January 10.

Cost

4 credits of tuition + $2,900 program fee + Education Abroad fee ($250) + international health insurance fee ($39)

- Tuition fees cover curriculum development and teaching costs.
- Program fee covers program logistics (shared accommodation, in-country ground transportation, some group meals, business visits, applied learning component, in-country COVID precautions and pre-return testing, and included cultural activities).
- Education Abroad fee covers risk management and program administration.
- All students and faculty participating in UMD sponsored study abroad programs are automatically enrolled in the UMD's international health insurance plan.

MANAGING GLOBAL BUSINESS RISKS AND OPPORTUNITIES

Faculty: Dr. Bennet Zelner

There is no cost other than tuition for Managing Global Business Risks and Opportunities (virtual course).

Engage virtually with global business leaders and subject matter experts in multiple countries, connect with normally inaccessible leadership, meet MBA students from around the world, and work with a US-based firm on a global consulting project in this award-winning course.

- 4 credits in the spring semester
- Open to 2nd and 3rd year FT and Flex MBA students
- Virtual Destinations: South Africa, Poland, and Israel
- Program fee: $0

VIEW THE INFO SESSION RECORDING

For more information on these courses, view a recording of the MBA Global Business Courses Information session, held on September 14th, here (passcode: 7==zLH6W).

Questions?

Contact Greg Rafal, assistant director, CGB at grafal@umd.edu.